This is the second coloring book by Margaret Feinberg that I have purchased. The first book focused on what God has in store for each of us. This coloring book focuses on what we have been given and how we are to live as believers. It is a beautiful way to sit and meditate on verses that lift me up and remind me of the spiritual abundance that I have. Left to my own thoughts, I can become more pessimistic and discouraged, even while coloring. Coloring generally releases me from the thoughts that cloud my brain. Coloring in a Christian-based coloring book actually fills my thoughts with things that are good and true. This one in particular reminds me of what God has in mind for my life. The verses in this book are taken from a wide variety of translations. The author additionally gives a good guideline on how you can use the book as part of a devotional exercise. As with her previous book, the focus of each design is the scripture. The designs in this coloring book are more integrated with the words than the previous one and, while I liked the first book, I like this one even more. The words are once again in cursive, which looks both beautiful and elegant. I have found that a well sharpened coloring pencil is my best way of filling in the words. I prefer a soft lead pencil for this â “ it doesn't fill in all the nooks and crannies but it gives a beautiful color and emphasis to the words. The designs in this book are printed on one side of very nice heavyweight white paper. The page facing each design (which is the back side of the preceding page) is a page for a journal. It has a similar thought and feel the quote on the design page and has the verse and the cite listed.
